Sub: New Central Universities – Liabilities towards pension and arrears of pay etc.

Sir,

I am directed to refer to the subject cited above and to state that the matter relating to pensioner of those State Universities which have been converted into Central Universities was under consideration of the UGC/MHRD.

Now, the MHRD, Government of India has clarified the matter on the subject as under: -

- (i) Since the Acts of all Central Universities established by conversion of State Universities have specific provisions to the effect that all liabilities of the State University, shall be transferred to and be the liabilities of the Central University, the pension liability in respect of the employees retired before the date of commencement of the respective Central Act shall be the liability of the Central University provided it was the liability of the State University before conversion.
- (ii) Where the State Governments had created special funds to meet the pension liabilities of the University employees and the Universities were subscribing to such funds, the pension liabilities in respect of the employees retired before the date of commencement of the Central Act would be the liabilities of the Central University subject to the fund value of the contributions of the University as on the date of commencement of the Central Act being transferred by the State Government to the Central University.
- (iii) Where the pay scales have been revised by the State Government with retrospective effect from 1.1.2006 but the State Government is not agreeable to make payment of arrears for the period from the date of revision of pay scales to the date of conversion as Central University, the liability towards payment of arrears shall also be the liability of the Central University.

- (iv) As regards the applicability of Central or State Pension Rules in the case of pensioners retired before conversion of these Universities as Central Universities, the Central Acts do not confer any right or claim on such pensioners for revision of their pension at the rate applicable to the Central university employees. They retired as State University employees and are entitled to pension only at the rates applicable to the State University pensioners.

You are requested to examine and settle the matter in view of the clarification as given above under the intimation of UGC.

Yours faithfully,

(S.C. Chadha)
Deputy Secretary
