Russian Clarification on CVC queries

Query 1:- The Contest Rule 5.1.1 requires each participant to compulsorily register a personal account on the official Contest website <http://anticorruption.life>. Whether each participant of the Contest at National level has to upload his/her work on the official website through his/her personal account after registration. Considering the large number of participants across India, uploading of works by all of them will become un-wieldy. Whether the works of winners/select participants only, at National level will be uploaded through their personal account. This may please be clarified immediately.

Clarification

The official Contest website <http://anticorruption.life> allows a large number of participants to register and submit their works. Of course, you may define your own resources for accepting works at the national stage, but in our opinion the official Contest website is very convenient for each participant to register and upload his work there. If each participant uploads his work to the website himself (as suggested by the Contest rules), it will be easy for the national jury to receive the list of these works and participants, to download works, to see contact details of the participants and any other necessary information for the assessment and the selection of winners.

Last year, more than 10,000 works were uploaded to the site by the participants themselves, and there were no problems.

Query 2:- The Contest Rule 6.5 requires the National Contest Commission to submit the works of semi-final top winners as well as 10 additional works for utilizing them for exhibition (Album) on the Contest website, through email to the Organizer. The size of materials to be transmitted through e-mail to the Organizer would be in the range of 3 GB (cumulatively) which is technically not possible for e-mail transfer. Even a single video of 300 MB cannot be transferred through e-mail. Therefore, a way-out for online submission of Contest works to the Organizer may be clarified.

Clarification

We see no problems with the submission of works of semi-final top winners as well as 10 additional works to the organizers of the international stage of the Contest. You can either send each work by e-mail in a separate letter, or upload them to the cloud storage and send us a link to download.

Query 3:- The login registration form (under Tab "To come in") does not display the items in English for guiding the participants to fill the form correctly. The texts (watermarks inside the form fields) contained in the entry fields are in Russian language only. In the absence of English captions for each entry field, it is difficult to understand what is to be written therein.

Clarification

The website is currently being finalized. The login registration form display the items in English for guiding the participants to fill the form correctly (see: <http://anticorruption.life/en/personal/auth/registration.php?register=yes&backurl=%2Fen%2Fpersonal%2Fauth%2F>) . Other texts are in English too.

Query 4: - Rule 5.1.2 of Contest Rules states that the Contest works will be electronically downloaded through a personal account on the Contest website. As each participant of the Contest is required to upload his work through his personal account, whether the authorities at National or Regional level will have access to the personal accounts of the participants or their works for electronically downloading them for assessment purposes? Or whether the uploaded works of all the participants will appear on the Contest website under section "Works of the contestants".

Clarification

We will provide the members of the national jury with access to the administrative interface of the site, where they may see the works of all the participants of their Country, upload them to the excel format, create lists, sort them, download works and receive personal data of the participants.
