Subject : Submission of the filled-up PROFORMA for getting the University inspected.

Sir,

Based on the letter received from UGC dated 23 November 2012 in response to our letter of 10 July 2012, we are pleased to submit the detailed proposal in the form of the filled-up PROFORMA attached herewith for your kind perusal.

You will be pleased to know that the Indira Gandhi Technological and Medical Sciences University is the only university in the State of Arunachal Pradesh having 375 acres of land for developing the green campus for the first time in the North East for launching vocational and job oriented programmes for catering to the demands of the business, Government and industry by preparing a competent cadre of young boys and girls with professional qualifications.

As mentioned in your letter you have asked us to submit a hard as well as a soft copy of the FORMAT. You have also mentioned that the information contained in the FORMAT will be posted on the UGC Website within 10 days. We request you to kindly do the same. We will also place this information on our university's website also.

We are sure that you will kindly constitute the Expert Committee within three months so that our university is inspected at the earliest.

You are aware that Arunachal Pradesh has a difficult terrain and that the State is fully backward with a majority of tribal population. We are sure that this will merit your consideration by giving a preferential treatment to our proposal by getting our university inspected and by recognizing our university under Section 2(f) of the UGC Act 1956.

Thanking you and looking forward to your kind consideration.

Sincerely yours,

Dr. S N Pandey
Vice Chancellor

16.1 Strengths of the University

The Indira Gandhi Technological and Medical Sciences University, Arunachal Pradesh has the best strength as the University has acquired more than 375 acres of land. The Government of Arunachal Pradesh is all out to promote this University by providing land and buildings at other locations in the State. The WIBP (sponsoring agency) has allocated sufficient funds for developing the campus. There is no other University running Bachelor's / Master's Degrees in Engineering, Technology, Medical and Paramedical Sciences. There will be a good response after the University Campus is developed fully. The details of land / building acquired / allotted / leased besides other important letters and notifications are placed vide Appendix – XX.

Till such time the Staff Quarters are built-up, it will be difficult to retain the Faculty Members. However, the University is trying to employ the retired persons of repute for managing the Academic Affairs.

Whether the Sponsoring Trust is running any other Educational Institution / University : Details of the Educational Activities

The World Institution Building Programme (WIBP), a Public Charitable Trust has successfully established The Global Open University Nagaland in the year 2006 under The Global Open University Act 2006.

The Global Open University Nagaland (TGOUN) is a distance learning and research university founded by the Government of Nagaland with the financial, technical and academic assistance of the World Institution Building Programme (WIBP). The University is funded by a combination of the endowment fund provided by WIBP, student fees, contract income and allocations for teaching and research by the higher education funding and sponsoring bodies throughout the world. It is notable for having an open entry policy, i.e. students' previous academic achievements are not taken into account for entry to most undergraduate courses. The majority of the TGOUN's undergraduate students are based in India and principally study off-campus, but many of its courses (both undergraduate and postgraduate) can be studied off-campus anywhere in the world. However TGOUN does not have any study centre as it operates from its headquarters at Dimapur. There are a number of full-time postgraduate research students based on the 12-acres university campus besides 71.5 acres rural campus where they use the infrastructural facilities for research, as well as more than 100 members of academic and research staff and over 50 administrative, operational and support staff.

TGOUN was established in 2006 and the first students enrolled thereafter in many vocational and job oriented subjects and areas including the MBA/MCA with more than 50 specialisations. The University administration is based at Dimapur, but has regional examination centres in each of the important cities in the country. The university awards undergraduate and postgraduate degrees, as well as non-degree qualifications such as diplomas and certificates or continuing education units.

With more than 1,00,000 students enrolled, it is one of the largest academic institution in the country by student number and the unique types of programmes offered, qualifies as one of the world's unique universities.

TGOUN provides university education to those wishing to pursue higher education on a part-time and/or distance learning basis, including people with health disabilities, who are officially a priority group for the university.

TGOUN uses a variety of methods for distance learning, including written and audio materials, the Internet, disc-based software and television programmes on DVD. Materials comprise originally authored work by in-house and external academic contributors. For most modules, students are supported by tutors ("Associate Lecturers") who provide feedback on their work and are generally available to them at face-to-face tutorials, by telephone, and/or on the Internet.

Important programmes include Bachelor's and Master's Degrees in the areas of Ecology and Environment; Disaster Management; Sustainable Development; Peace and Global Security; Disarmament; Business Administration; Computer Applications; Biotechnology; Health Care and Hospital Administration; Journalism and Mass Communication; Juridical Sciences; Alternative Dispute Resolution; Negotiation; Valuation; Education; Sports; Physical Education; Bioinformatics; Geoinformatics; Intellectual Property Rights; Geriatric Care; Interfaith Studies; Political Science; Public Administration; Diplomacy; Psychology; Counselling; Forensic Science; Development Psychology; Criminology; Anti-Terror Laws; Trafficking Abatement; Library and Information Science; Habitat and Population Studies etc.

5. The Governing Council appreciated the ideas explained by the Chancellor Dr. P R Trivedi regarding his philosophies of institution building. It was unanimously resolved to adhere to the philosophies mentioned below :
  - (a) If the goals of an institution are perceived as important for the society and those are seen as challenging, and further if these are shared among the co-promoters and the functionaries of the institution, the process of institution building will be smooth.
  - (b) If the goals are accepted widely amongst the members of the institution and those are fairly focused, the institution has good chances of success.
  - (c) If an institution identifies key, committed people before identifying the specific programmes, it has cent per cent chance of being up to the mark.
  - (d) If enough time is not put in people working in the institution and they are not given enough autonomy to work, institution building activity will suffer.
  - (e) If enough attention is paid to the process in the institution's life in the very beginning, less attention will be needed to it later and enough time will be available for the substantive work.
  - (f) The matrix form of organisation is the most suitable for institution building.
  - (g) An institution which establishes the necessary mechanism to foster and stabilize the tradition and culture has more chances of making more impact on other institution.

- (h) Sharing of common experience and developing some homogeneity of thinking by various members of an institution in its earlier rather early life would help in the institution building process.
- (i) Mechanisms of establishing a balance between the autonomy of individual members and their collaboration for common goals help in the institution building process.
- (j) A delicate balance between the autonomy of the institution and its strong linkages with and support from outside may help the institution building process.
- (k) A non competitive leader helps in the process of institution building.
- (l) The most crucial test of institution building is to what extent a leader is able to dispossess the institution which is built. Otherwise the process of stagnation starts.
