Dear Vice Chancellor/ Director,

As you are aware, there was a longstanding demand from both the prospective candidates and the higher educational institutions for the establishment of an Academic Job Portal which can specially cater to their specific employment and hiring requirements. The MHRD has also strongly advocated for the establishment of such a dedicated Web Portal.

It pleases me to share with you that the UGC has developed an Academic Job Portal (<http://www.ugc.ac.in/jobportal>). This portal is going to serve the two constituencies namely the job seekers and the employers. While it will help students to create their academic profiles and bring them to the attention of universities, colleges and other potential employers, it will also enable the employers to post the job vacancies for talent hunt. In addition, Universities and other Institutions, as employer, can also verify NET qualified candidates through the same interface. The portal will also provide for browsing, searching and filtering of academic profiles created by the qualified candidates on a number of parameters.

I am addressing this mail to you to seek your help and cooperation in popularizing this portal. An officer assigned from your university / college may register by logging on to the portal and clicking at "Register" under employer section of the portal. Your assigned officer will be receiving alerts from this portal. I am sure the user friendly interface of this portal will cater to the needs of both the "job seekers" as well as the "job providers". May I request you to kindly encourage qualified students to use this portal for creating their academic profiles? May I also request you to consider uploading job advertisements of your university for the academic positions?

I shall also be looking forward to receiving your valuable suggestions for improvising this initiative of the UGC.

With kind regards,

Yours sincerely,

(Ved Prakash)
